How can I help PSDP's mission?

Donate

- donate money directly

PSDP accepts tax-deductible donations: cash (in-person), checks (payable to PSDP), PayPal, & credit cards (through PayPal). Confidently give—we're Platinum on GuideStar and Top-Rated on GreatNonprofits!

- micro-donate, at no cost to you

We're partners with Amazon Smile,* Goodsearch, and Goodshop. Start at smile.amazon.com and we get a small part of your normal Amazon purchase price. Goodsearch is a search engine that gives us a penny per search. Goodshop gives you discounts at many sites—and donates, too!

Advocate

- community-level issues

PSDP regularly lists opportunities to become a helpful force in large-scale advocacy efforts. Tune in to Twitter @PSDpartners, follow us on Facebook, and check out the “You Can Help!” section on our site.

- in-person advocacy

If someone with a service dog (or even a businessperson) is being denied their rights, say something! Educate yourself so you can educate others.

Spread the word

Learn about psychiatric service dogs and their handlers' rights and responsibilities through our resources, then let others know about this life-changing disability-mitigating possibility!

What resources does PSDP have to help me?

- website

www.psychdogpartners.org (or just "psych.dog") is an information trove of resources, including several FAQs and popular articles.

- peer guidance group

We host a free, friendly email group where peers share support and guidance. Request to join through our website before you get a dog!

- telephone consultation

Our expert volunteer phone line is ready to answer your questions!

- outreach/presentations

Our community is available for presentations at your workplace, venue, or happening. We have experienced educators standing by!

- conventions

We have annual conventions for psychiatric service dog handlers in April. Plan to join us!

- advocacy

PSDP is an independent, all-volunteer network of peers; our members and leadership work together to actively advocate for disability rights and sensible service dog legislation, rather than corporate interests. We're here to serve, not pay big salaries.
